A New Direction

Another day, another week, another year is a common saying. This time it's different. It is the beginning of a new decade. A New Direction.

For freshmen, a new direction may be just the fact of starting high school and being in an entirely new atmosphere.

"Coming from junior high to HHS is very new because things are so fast and I don't know as many people. I'm going to meet and know as many people as possible," stated freshman Katie Alamillo.

Sophomores are in a neutral position. They are not quite considered an upperclassman yet are not longer classified as a "nerdy frosh."

Anticipating senior year, preparing for prom and taking SAT's are just a few of the many "new directions" for the juniors.

A new direction for seniors is being on their own, whether they are at college, at home or working in the "real world."

"A new direction, the turn of the century. The beginning of the nineties. The turn of the decade."

"As a senior, I believe a new direction leads to a new life. A life of living and learning. A time to put ourselves in second gear and strive to be the best we can be. The future of success lies within us," stated senior Kim Gordon.

Whether one is entering a new atmosphere, moving up a grade or graduating, a new direction is always trying to be attained.

STUDENT LIFE

Greer Goodman bothers her friends to carry her to the car after a chilling night at the bonfire.

HHS is one of the most versatile schools around. The students are different yet the same. We all go to school six and a half hours a day, we take the core classes, and we are all teenagers struggling with the same controversies, yet we are different.

The mixture of people in HHS is almost exciting, the thought of all of us being able to go to the same school and meet people we would otherwise be deprived of meeting. Yes, we are different and there is definitely more to an HHS student than meets the eye: they're bright, vibrant, active, charismatic youths who are proud of it.

A Week of Spirit and Success

Homecoming once again has proven to be a week of fun, spirit, and a time to reunite those who are here and those who were once here. The festivities for homecoming started on Saturday, October 23 with a kick-off dance.

The Wildcats began homecoming week on Monday, with it being kiddie day. Tuesday gave girls the chance to dress like boys, and boys a chance to dress like girls. Wednesday was somewhat a break for the students as they wore their class colors. The Wildcats had a chance to go back in time and dress according to the styles of the 50's, 60's, and 70's on Thursday. Finally, Friday called upon students to wear our school colors: purple and white.

As usual the week ended with a game Friday night. Even though there wasn't as big of a turn-out for the homecoming game as in years past, the week was as successful as always.

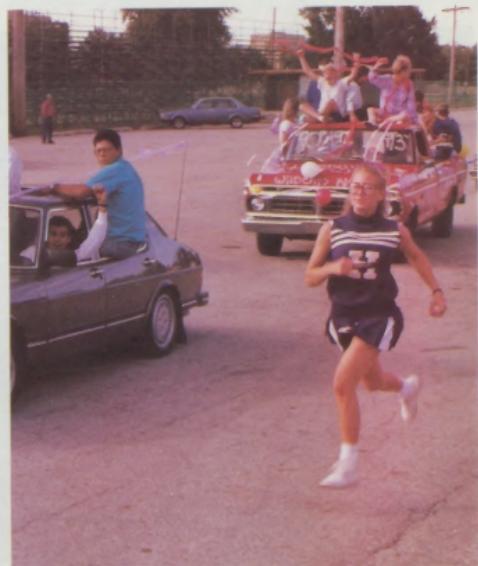

On boy/girl switch day, students take time out from algebra class to show that they know how to dress like their opposite gender.

"Running" late, senior Kristyn Ball tries to catch up with the rest of the cheerleaders.

The Big Scare

Losing by 14 points during a Homecoming game can be one of the scariest feelings one can ever go through, especially for the players and coach. With our boys not giving up, our cheerleaders and band pumping up the crowd, and most of all that "ole WILDCAT PRIDE" the Wildcats came through with 31 to 21 win over the Gary Roosevelt Panthers.

Sophomore receiver Andre "Scooby" Robertson, who caught a touchdown pass from Senior Quarterback Darrius "Bruiser" White with 28 seconds left before halftime bringing the Wildcats within 7 said, "After I caught that pass and heard the crowd yelling and screaming, I felt real good. I felt I could catch any pass, from anybody, on any field."

After halftime and a pep talk from coach Sherer, the boys came out pumped and ready to add another win to their list of Homecoming victories. Scoring 16 more points the Wildcats defeated the Panthers 31 to 21.

After the game many of the fans showed signs of relief as they didn't expect to see a Homecoming as "scary" as this.

It will always be a Homecoming to remember.

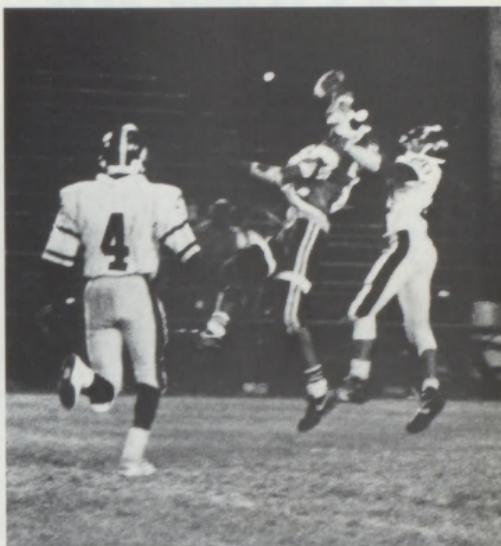

The crowd stands on their feet in hope of another Homecoming win.

Getting ready to cheer their hearts out, Senior cheerleaders Jenny Lytle, Kristyn Ball and junior Roberta Jones decide which cheer to start with.

Dreams Do Come True

"I'm so happy I can't believe it!" "Is this really happening?"

When asked, those were just some of the comments expressed by the winners of the 1989 Homecoming Court.

As the girls left the field, they expressed hugs with friends and family and some shed tears of happiness. However there were tears of sorrow shed by some of the girls who lost. Those girls' tears should've been happy too, because they were all winners.

They went beyond the call of WILDCAT PRIDE.

This year's Homecoming was held September 29, 1989. Rosa Aguliar was crowned Freshman Princess, Amy Wingfield was announced Sophomore Princess, Racquelch Phillips smiled her way to victory by being announced Junior Princess and the 1989 Homecoming Queen was Perdea Phillips. A new addition to the court, Mr. Football, was awarded to Matt Taylor.

Thinking Through Summer Fun

Many people spend their summer vacations in different ways. Some go on trips, others have to spend their time in summer school, while others decide to go to camp.

There are various types of camps people can attend. Such camps include cheerleading, baseball, pom-poms, upword bound, and journalism.

A lot of fun is involved in these camps. Students give a week up of their vacation and they attend a camp. They learn new techniques, whether it is on how to make a better yearbook or how to make a perfect pyramid. They meet new and exciting people from many different cities and states.

Most students who attend a summer camp find it an enjoyable and exciting experience and would attend another if given the opportunity.

Academics

Laura Basaldua takes time to edit an article due in her newspaper class.

One of the most important things in any student's high school career is how well they do academically. Hammond High offers a variety of sciences, mathematics and languages to enhance the student's ability to grasp the knowledge needed in today's world. Although many strive to do their best in different sports, academics must come first. Not only do the students care how well they do, but also the teachers care. Teacher participation is a very important part on how well one may achieve. We have some of the finest and most thoughtful teachers in the area. Academics is the meaning behind school from which this famous saying stems, "Never Let It Rest Until Your Good Is Better And Your Better Is Your Best."

Learning the Basics

What kind of teachers here at Hammond High can tell you how to write a complete sentence or that "We is ready" is incorrect grammar? The English teachers, of course.

Whether one loved or hated English, one had to take it in order to graduate. Somewhere along the way, the average student at H.H.S. will have worked in grammar and literature, a bit of composition, and will have made a few speeches before graduating. But this isn't all the English Department has to offer.

Besides the required courses, which encompass every grade and learning level, there are many other fine courses offered within the English department. Such courses include debate, Herald, and Dunes.

There is something for everybody in the English department. Yet if it weren't for the old question, "Do you understand English?", it is unlikely that the English department would exist.

Calculating the Best

Do you ever sit in your math class and find yourself pondering that ever so popular phrase, "What am I doing here?" It's a common question pondered by multitudes of students around the world. Hold on to your socks because answers will prevail. Whether it's basic math or pre-calculus the function's the same and despite popular belief it's not just so one can make sure the Burger King cashier hasn't cheated them, though that is a suffice reason for some frequent B.K. customers. Actually the true meaning is not just to teach us how to add 2+2 or multiply  $5 \times 13$  or even figure out the value of  $x$  in  $y = mx + b$ ; it's to help us learn how to make decisions and critically think before we act. It teaches us how to live, how to function, how to think and last but, of course, not least how to make sure that that little sneaky cashier doesn't cheat us out of our change.

A Bit of History

Y our interest in Social Studies goes a long way back. Remember when you were little you told everyone that when you "grew up" you were going to be president?

New Balance

This year's science department consists of many different science classes ranging from general science to physics.

Mr. Hayden had his biology classes dissect pigs for the first semester. For other science classes they did labs and basics from their books.

This year, the science department has added on a new variety of teachers. Vern Lee who teaches physical science and physics, took the place of Ted Erickson. J. P. Teal took the place of Ms. Warner and now teaches biology and general science and is also the sponsor of the science olympiad team. James Sherer is also new and teaches general science.

With all of the changes, the science department is definitely headed for a new direction.

Mr. Hayden shows Roger Justice how to cut open the pig during dissection.

Applying Talent

The fine arts department consists of three subjects. They are band, chorus and art. Band is divided up into three parts. There is the cadet band, concert band and beginners band. Chorus, like band, is also divided into parts. These parts include the concert choir, glee club and choir.

Band is taught by Mr. Bialon, chorus is under the leadership of Mrs. Hunt and Mr. Ball and Mrs. Bauman are in charge of the art department.

Many seniors take art because it gives them a special honors diploma. This award is an extra seal on their regular diploma.

The band and chorus can be seen many times throughout the school year. The band performs at home basketball and football games, and they are part of the Christmas Concert, and seen at the induction of National Honor Society Members. The chorus performs in the Black History Program, at the Christmas concert and other various competitions.

Sew What?

Home Economics isn't just cooking and sewing anymore. Today's Home Ec. Department offers a wider variety of courses. Besides foods and textiles, there are Interpersonal Relationships, Child/Human Growth and Development, Family Management, and Consumer Education.

These courses give students the opportunity to plan for the future and learn skills they will use later in life when they are out on their own.

Tools of the Trade

Where would we be if we didn't have technology? There wouldn't be any cars, phones — or even schools.

The Hammond High Industrial Arts Department gives students an introduction to Drafting and Woods.

Drafting gives insight as to how things are designed: Everything starts on the drawing board. Students learn to look at things differently, how things are put together, the planning that took place, knowing each part had an individual drawing and how it will look when it's finished.

Woods Shop gives students the chance to design a project and take it from paper through construction to an actual item. Students learn to recognize all the hand tools and how they are used. They also learn to use the power hand tools and such stationary equipment as the table saw, band saw and the jig saw.

Both classes offer the experience of hands-on training that students will use later in life.

Fremdsprache bereiten Sie vor vous pour tous Caminos de La Vida*

*Foreign language prepares you for all walks of life.

Wir sprechen Deutsch, Se habla Espanol, and nous parlons francais. In addition to speaking English at Hammond High, many people explore another language.

Most people start taking a foreign language in middle school, some start as freshmen, and there are still others who wait until their senior year. Such languages include Spanish, French, and German.

For those who stick with a foreign language, there is a program known as honors credit. To qualify, one must be a student at the 5-6 level (or above), must have parental, teacher, and counselor approval, and one must agree to complete one additional project each grading period.

There are other activities arranged for Foreign Language students every year. Examples of these include:

Illinois, B.S.;

M.S.; Freshman

field trips, making holiday decorations and cards in a particular language, and viewing videotapes and filmstrips.

When asked the importance of a foreign language, Mrs. Urick let her second-hour French 8-10 class do the talking.

The members of the class agreed on the following points of learning a foreign language:

- It helps future employment
- It helps one formulate one's own thoughts
- It helps one understand one's own language
- It helps one understand other people, countries, and customs

It is because of the importance, fun and benefits learning a foreign language brings that foreign languages remain popular courses year after year.

SPORTS

Sports are the mainstream of high school life. Many students join just for fun, but others plan to make a career out of playing sports. Sports wouldn't be fun without the support of family and friends. Almost every student, at one point in time, attends some kind of sports event. The best parts about being in sports are the thrill of victory, the friendships made and the team work involved.

A Cut Above All

The 1989 varsity football team is a team rebirthed. An entire new coaching staff consists of head coach Jim Sherer and Bob Sojka and Bill Markovich as assistant coaches. At the beginning of the season, Sherer was handed a lump of coal and by the end of the season, he had taken his diamond in the rough and created a well polished gem.

The team was one to be proud of. "I was proud of the team and disappointed in how quickly the season ended," said Coach Sherer. Although the Wildcats didn't have the longest running season, they had one of quality. Keith Adams lead the team in their rushing with 164 carries and 751 total yards and Darius White lead the cats in passing with the record of 77 completions and 926 yards total. Leading the team in tackles was Walter Hartley. The cats had a record of 6 wins and 3 losses. Matt Taylor, one of the team members, had this to say about coach Sherer and this year's season. "Coach Sherer coaches from the heart and if everyone on the team played with the same spirit as he coaches we could have a better team."

Hard Work Pays Off

The girls varsity team didn't make it to the top, but they were able to improve their season. They went from six wins to ten wins for the year.

Due to an ineligible player they had problems. The first ten games had to be forfeited.

The girls varsity volleyball team placed third in the Bloom Trail Tournament, with two wins and three loses. The team did exceptionally well on their match against Clark. They suffered a loss first game with a score of 7-15, but turned around and won the next two games with scores of 15-11 and 15-13.

The season ended after suffering a loss to Bishop Noll during the third game of sectionals. Though the girls lost, they tried their true Wildcat pride.

The junior varsity volleyball team ended their season with seven wins and thirteen losses. The junior varsity also competed in a Bloom Trail Tournament in which they placed fourth.

The boys tennis team struggled through yet another year with only eight team members. The team consisted of four seniors, two juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman. Having six returning players, the Cats defeated Morton, Gary Wallace, and Gavit both matches.

Although their losses exceeded their wins, our boys placed fourth in Conference and second in Sectionals. In sectionals, Clarence Allen and Tim Fornal won their first match in First Doubles and then lost in the finals. In Second Doubles, Mike Rodeck and Mike Sowards won their first match and were defeated in the finals.

When asked to compare this season to his past three seasons on the team, Ismel Alvarez replied, "For me, personally, it's been different from the past three years because it's my last year and I know I'm going to miss all the competition and fun I have had."

"For such a small team, I think we did very well," commented Coach Bowers.

Cats Run With the Wind

This was an exciting year for the cross country team. Team morale, as well as coach enthusiasm, was high and there were accomplishments for both the boys and girls.

The boys' team was led by Coach Jackson and the girls' team by Coach Long. This is the second year the school has had a girls' cross country team.

Coach Long stated that Wednesday Harper was the number one runner against Gavit and Shawn Secrest was the number one runner in separate meets against Whiting and Bishop Noll. Wednesday Harper and Shawn Secrest also made it to sectionals.

According to William Williams, the boys were no slouches this year. The boys' team placed third in conference and won the junior varsity conference.

If one would ask the team members and coach how they felt about being on the team, one would find that feelings varied widely from person to person. Tamla Williams said, "It's very interesting because this is the first year I've been running ... It's been a lot of fun!" William Williams stated simply, "It's all right." And one final thought from Coach Long on the girls' cross country team: "It's a growing team because it's a young team."

Shawn Secrest puts in extra effort to make it to the finish line before anyone else.

Cheering Their Way to the Top

This year's cheerleading squad, under the leadership of Ms. Warner, cheered our teams to many victories.

The freshman captain was Jackie Peters. Junior Varsity captain was Cindy Hernandez. Varsity captains were Jean Casmir and Kristyn Ball.

Our cheerleaders have promoted school spirit throughout the year. They have organized our pep assemblies, and have decorated our players lockers during home games.

Our cheerleaders sold Homecoming corsages and school spirit ribbons to raise money for new uniforms in the upcoming years.

The cheerleaders attended summer camp at Purdue Lafayette in order to learn new cheers and new techniques in order to cheer the Hammond High Wildcats to many victories.

During Homecoming assemblies Jennifer Lytle flips her hair in an all out effort to cheer the cats on to Victory.

"This, being my last year cheering at Hammond High School, I feel very sad. It has been a great experience and I will never forget it. Even though I will be graduating I will always be a wildcat at heart. I will never forget my years at H.H.S. and I hope when I come back the spirit and pride will have never ended."

Pumpin' Up With The Poms

This year's Pom-pom squad consisted of 12 spirited young ladies. The captain of the squad was senior Connie Gula, and the co-captain was senior Laura Basaldua.

Most students feel that being on the squad is extremely easy and all fun. Indeed, there is fun involved, but also a lot of work. "I love being on the squad. You get to find out more about people and their different styles, but also you have to concentrate and work together to form routines, which aren't as easy as they seem," stated senior India Morris.

The pom-pom squad concluded their successful year by working hard to raise money for uniforms. They did so by having bake and Tupperware sales, car washes and other fund raisers.

Back row: S. Winston, K. Bowen, J. Garcia, Ms. Deyoung, C. Brown, V. Manns, I. Morris. Row 2: A. Walton, T. Wilson, C. Campbell, L. Basaldua, T. Fornal, S. DeJesus, C. Gula, W. Walton, C. Castellanos, C. Bradley.

Doin' the Right Thang

Doin' the right "thang" is something Coach Harwell and Coach Green have always instilled in their players, and the right "thang" is what they have always done.

Winning the ILSC Title for the second year, the hoopers were led in scoring and rebounding by Jonathon Barkey and Darius White.

This season the Wildcat hoopers were to go face to face with the conference rival, the Gavit Gladiators, for the first round of the sectional play. They practiced everyday after school until the big night was here. The Wildcats played a hard and tough game but they were defeated 76-82.

This year four of the varsity members made the All Conference Team, they were Jonathon Barkey, Darius White, Dorien Nash and Honorable Mention, Kian Moore.

Mr. Basketball, Jonathon Barkey goes up for a layup.

Small Numbers Add Up

Motivation — Competition — Teamwork. That's what the Lady Catfish are up to these days. Although the Cats went down fighting, their only shortcoming was that they were outmanned by each of their opposing teams. Eight very competitive ladies stuck it out through the entire season.

HHS swimmers

placed high in meets, but with fewer swimmers than their opponents, their point totals came up short. Realizing this as their weakness, the Cats began to concentrate on improving their individual times.

Co-captain Shellie Lakatos commented, "Even though we didn't win against other teams, we beat our personal times and that accomplishment is as rewarding as winning the meets themselves."

The Lady Cats finished second in Conference and swam hard in Sectionals, with their relay team advancing to Sectional finals.

In the end, each team member completed the season with a true feeling of Wildcat Pride.

Deak Bids Farewell To Wrestling

Since it was the last year for super coach Karl Deak, it seemed as though the guys put forth an extra effort to make it a successful season; and that they did. They had a record of 11-4. Leading the pack were team captains Steve Marks, Darrin Bailey, and Walter Hartley. "They were a young but strong team," said Coach Deak. Most of them will be returning next year along with the new Head Coach Bill Markovich.

Even though a great coach is retiring, we will be gaining new and fresh talent to carry on the winning spirit of the Hammond High Wrestling Team.

If it takes a twisted arm to prove that Wildcats are always on top, then that's what Matt Taylor is willing to do.

We've Come A Long Way Baby

Last year's girls basketball theme was "Learning How to Win." They've definitely gone a few steps ahead of just "learning." They've gone as far as actually winning.

With a determined amount of team work, coach Rick Badovinich and assistant coach Crystal Moore have driven the Lady Cats to numerous wins. Hard fought team wins, which weren't only full of pride, but also a feeling of accomplishment.

Senior players, Danita Adkins and Shaunta Ware said, "We've been with the team since our freshman year — we've watched them progress — which has been extremely exciting and we wish the underclassmen the best to come in the near and far future."

Fish Flounder Through Season

A slow start led the 1989-90 Boys Swim team to one very long season. This year's team consisted of nine swimmers and two dedicated coaches.

Although their record doesn't show it, our boys improved in times and placement. As the case has been in the past few years at Hammond High, lack of swimmers is to blame for the win/loss record. With the absence of swimmers in several events, it is difficult for a small team to pull more points than its larger and more versatile opponent.

Members complain they need more support. David Gomez says, "I believe that if more students participated in swimming we would be able to place high in more meets. I not only want them to participate but also try hard and not mope around. We would like more support in the bleachers and maybe some cheerleaders!!"

Wildcats Burst With Momentum

Y our heart's pounding, your adrenaline's flowing, and your mind's flustered by chaotic thoughts; are you running a marathon? Are you dancing into the wee hours of the night? No you're experiencing the excitement of viewing a H.H.S. soccer game. It's more than a game, it's a way of life. They play hard and win!

H.H.S.'s soccer team played with stamina, integrity, dignity, and pride. They ran with their heads held high. This year's team had a winning combination; a hard working team, dedicated fans, and just the right amount of momentum to take them to the peak of their potential. Leading them to the top were captains Oscar Gomez, Drew Summers, Jose Salinas and coaches Mr. Carroll and Mr. Markovich. The top scorer this year was Carlos Cruz and the assist leader this year was Feliciano Bucio. The entire team was definitely one to be proud of, they gave their all and did their best. Even though H.H.S. didn't play a single home game, because of field restoration, they beat all the odds and came out on top.

"Right back at you" is the thought in Lelania Alamillo's mind as she hustles to the ball just in time.

(wild-CATS, that is . . .)

Under the direction of first year coach, Bill Bowers, the Hammond High School girls tennis team struggled through the duration of the season but showed it had heart by finishing third in sectionals.

"We had a lot of hard working ladies wanting to learn and achieve the best they could. It is hard competing against teams who's members play all winter," said coach Bowers.

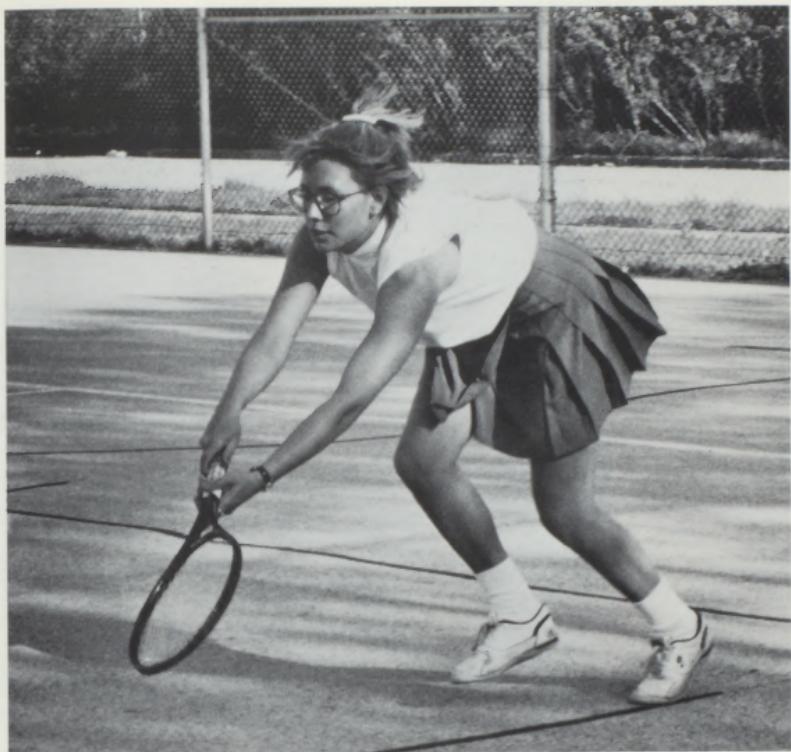

Blending together old and new may have brought out the new found strength in our girls. The doubles teams each had one freshman and one veteran player. Varsity singles were led by senior Kristyn Ball, junior Gracie Garza, and at third singles, a new addition to the team, Lelania Alamillo.

Though the tennis team may not have had many victories this year (losing most matches 3-2), they did show a great deal of improvement and also hope to bring out the best of themselves in next year's season.

Winning Spirits

This year, the boys baseball team started their season off on a bad note, losing ten straight games before coming up with a win against B.N.I.

Playing hard and not giving up, the Wildcats ended the season with six total victories.

When the regular season was over, the Wildcats were "pumped" and ready for sectionals. Everyone from the team to the fans were determined to bring back a sectional win. Unfortunately, they came up short.

Although the Wildcat baseball team did not have a winning season, they gave it their all.

And They're Off

The 1990-91 girl's track team had a very good year considering they had several rainouts.

This season the team captain was Reshunda Richardson who also made the Times Track Honor Roll. Along with Reshunda, the 400 meter relay team, which consisted of Melquita Moore, Dawn McNeil, Tamara Maxwell, and Lydoska Frank, also made the Honor Roll.

Running in stride at sectionals and regionals the girls were able to send Reshunda Richardson to state.

The boy's track team had a few ups and downs this season. Last year's state qualifier, Keith Adams, was out with an injury most of the season, but came back strong for sectionals and regionals.

Along with Keith, Joe Stankowski and Dorien Nash went to regionals ready to capture a title to bring back a Regional Championship to Hammond High. Unfortunately, they were unsuccessful.

Next year the team will have experienced underclassmen ready to fill the seniors "running shoes."

Cats Go Down In History

The Lady Wildcats completed their best season yet with a record of 8 and 8. Sweeping both Morton and Gavit in conference, our girls won more games this year than any other softball team in Hammond High's history.

Although they were still unable to defeat longtime rivals Clark and Noll and lost two very close games to Whiting, the team showed a definite improvement by beating Lowell, T.F. North and taking a double-header from Calumet High School.

Leading the "Cats" on their rampage were seniors Jean Casmir, Jennifer Lytle, Julie Snow and Laurie Wozniak. These four scored 47 runs this season and were responsible for one homerun, several triples and numerous doubles and base hits.

The JV team went undefeated, winning five games. They defeated Morton three times and Gavit and Lowell each once.

People

Not quite ready to take a picture, Ms. Warner gives Amira Robinson a struggle when it's time to strike a pose.

Every year schools change. Sometimes for the better and sometimes for the worst. People change too! Last year's geeky freshman may have come back as a more mature sophomore.

Throughout the following pages students from all walks of life can be seen. These students gather five days a week and roughly ten months out of the year to be educated. Some have made friendships that will never end while others have enemies they will never forgive. As with anyone's life, there are people who have gained and people who have lost.

Through thick and thin and through all of our growing, we are the PEOPLE of Hammond High. We are what gives this school its every direction.

In Memory Of . . .

Thomas
Bicknell

Charlie
Garcia

John
Hollis

Fred
Showalter

Tom Bicknell was a very close friend to many people, including myself. His death was a loss which most everyone will remember for the rest of their lives. Although he may not be here anymore, we will always have the memories to hold.
Bill Bowen

The death of Charlie Garcia was very unexpected and even more so very sad. Charlie will be missed and remembered by all who knew him.

Anonymous

John was like a brother to most of his friends. He helped us if we needed help. John was always there to help us with our problems. We used to call him a "Big Teddy Bear." John watched over his friends . . . and he still does! But not from the Earth, but from the Heavens. We will always remember John no matter where he is. He is no longer with us in body but he will always be with us in heart, in spirit and in soul. We love you always John.
Julie Snow and Bobby Lamont

Fred Showalter was a pretty cool guy. My Freshman year me and Fred got into a fight over what I really don't know. But after that we became pretty good friends. I can remember when we used to sit in Mr. Hayden's class and crack jokes and talk about music. Fred was definitely one of the most laid back guys I ever met. We miss you bro!

Seniors

Entering Hammond High in 1986, the class of 1990 has come a long way. During their senior year, the class was kept busy with either filling out college applications or preparing for their last Homecoming.

The class has produced many athletes, honor students and leaders. Full of talent, the group has left their mark at Hammond High and one that will be hard to follow.

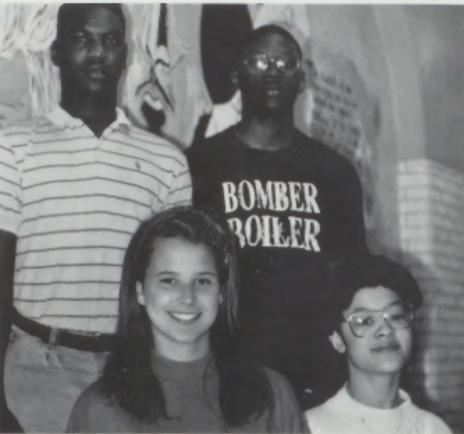

Many of the seniors have caught the inevitable "senioritis" — which is a lack of interest by seniors — but a majority of the group has been able to control it by doing some occasional work.

Having Miss Williams and Miss Hunt as their class sponsors, the class had many successful homecomings and put on a prom that will never be forgotten.

Hammond High has its own special place with some of our seniors. "With the way our class has grown, I feel we've grown together. I hope we remember one another." — Elaine Azpeitia. "No other school I have been at I've spent some of the best days of my life at Hammond High." — Jason Gore.

Coming in as Freshmen was hard for the group but leaving their friends will be even harder. After graduation each and every one will go their own separate way to do his or her own best in whatever they choose.

Time is not measured by the passing of hours, but by what one does, what one feels, and what one achieves.

CLASS FLOWER

Zinnia

*“In Memory
of absent
friends.”*

Juniors

'J' is for jammin'!
'U' is for unique!
'N' is for number 1!
'I' is for independent!
'O' is for outgoing!
'R' is for respect!
'S' is for superior!

All of these things and more represent the ever so popular Junior class. The Junior class has come a long way from those "old shy Freshman days." They're no longer carrying all their books to every class or running to the lunch room. Now they're up to more important things, like planning proms, taking SAT's and getting ready to fill the Seniors' shoes.

School Away From School

There are many students who, after high school, would prefer to pursue a career instead of going to college or into the Army, Navy, Air Force, or the Marines. These students attend the Area Career Center.

When our parents went to school, they went to Hammond High, Gavit, Clark and Hammond Tech. Hammond Tech was the school for those who wanted to get a job after their high school years.

The Area Career Center, which was once Hammond Tech, gives students a chance to better their talents that they may someday utilize.

Sophomores

Who are those strange M&M selling, colorful, original, new beings who have been invading HHS for the past 2 years? The sophomore class is full of a multitude of different people, personalities, ideas, and dreams, which are the ingredients for a very strong and unique class. The sponsors are Mrs. Jones and Mr. Hayden. The class officers are President, Yolanda Spencer; Vice President, Andrea Beitler; Treasurer, Mike Rodeck; and Secretary, William Williams. The class started slow, but with a little momentum is progressing beyond its expectations. The class of 1992 had a very successful fund raiser, selling M&M's. They earned $1100, now they can begin planning for the prom they will host.

Freshmen

F rosh, nerd, dweeb, dork! We've all heard it, we've all experienced it, and we've probably all said it. These are all common names we refer to freshmen as (with affection of course). Why? Do we really love to torture the incoming freshmen? No! Why then do we inflict punishment upon these poor freshmen who were at the peak of their grammar school monarchy just the year before? Plain and simple, it's because of tradition. We've all experienced it, so we feel it is our duty to carry it on. This year's freshmen just do not understand. This class holds a great deal of determination; they are determined to become upperclassmen so they can taunt and tease incoming freshmen. The sponsors of the class of 1993 are Ms. McQuigg and Mrs. Kostopoulos.

Applying The Rules

As in most cases, there is always a group of great leaders behind every great establishment. Well, Hammond High is the great establishment, and our administration is the group of great leaders. The HHS administration has worked harder this year than they have in past years.

A few changes were made in the administration this year. These changes include the promotion of Ms. Grose and Ms. Warner to the position of Deans of Students, and the addition of Mrs. Washington to the secretarial staff. Thanks to Ms.

Grose and Ms. Warner along with attendance office, there has been a rise in student attendance levels, and a decline in truancies and detentions. The rest of the administrative staff include principal Mr. White, assistant principal Mr. Brown, the counselors Mr. Brock, Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Molchan, and Mr. Monberg. There are also the helpful secretaries Mrs. Nieves and Mrs. O'Rourke. All of the staff works hard in trying to improve the school and make HHS one of the best high schools in our city.

Caution: Men At Work

As freshmen coming into Hammond High or as a senior leaving, or even if you are in one of the in between classes you have heard the horror stories of cafeteria food. The movies even depict cafeterias as only a place to go when you're really hungry or just a place to have food fights.

Let's be realistic! Cafeteria food really isn't that bad. The cooks come in as early as 6:00 a.m. just to prepare a well nourished lunch for any one who may appreciate it. Although it's fun to make the cafeteria out to be the worst place to be seen, remember there are people who care about what you eat.

Excuse me, do you have a pass? What are you doing? Where are you going? Whose class are you coming from? These are just a few of the questions that are part of the everyday life of a hall monitor. Hall Monitors may have the worst jobs ever assigned to any person in the school. A hall monitor has the responsibility of knowing everyone's business whether it be that they're going to the washroom or down to the office. A hall monitors job is never done.

Organizations

Christia Cambell is busy like a bee to finish a story due in newspaper.

What to do? What to do? Does this annoying question ever intrude upon your innermost thoughts? Never fear answers are near. Put a little excitement into, make the most of your high school life, bounce this off your brain waves and ponder this . . . clubs. We have everything from S.A.D.D. to W.A.T. It's not just a bunch of acronyms, really, it's real people (just like you and I) contributing to society and making a difference. Whether you're a real genius or a social butterfly, we're for you. It's a great way to meet new, interesting people and for those who are shy, this is definitely a way to come out of your shell, expose yourself to people from all different walks of life, and expand your horizons. So, go ahead, add some excitement to your life; join a club; make a difference!

Drew Summers and Matt Taylor express confusion after G's long explanation.

Julie Snow explains to her staff the importance of meeting the deadlines.

Standing straight and proud the Hammond High Band prepares to "pump up" the crowd with the school song.

No Respect

No respect is what the band gets. No RESPECT. Playing through any kind of weather, Pumpin up the crowd during games, Homecoming parades and assemblies is their number one priority, but lack of respect is all they get.

"We need new uniforms, more instruments and a new style of music," say several of the Band Members. The 60 member band is headed by Mr. Van Bialon.

This year, all that complaining had paid off. With the help of the band members' parents, there is an "Adult Band Booster Club." With these parents helping out the band should get all their complaints and some fixed.

When not performing, you can find members practicing in the band room.

Jammin' it up on the drum are Undre Weems and William Beaty.

"Playing through any type of weather is our number one priority" is the thought that goes through Michael Lopez's mind.

Do Re Mi

Do re mi fa so la te do, those are the sounds one may hear when approaching the Hammond High Choir Department, under the leadership of Mrs. Hunt.

They have performed many unforgettable concerts throughout the 1989-1990 school year. At Christmas time they performed songs ranging from "Away in a Manager" to "Silent Night." They also performed once again at our very successful Black History program. On their agenda were spirituals such as "Lift Every Voice and Sing," considered to be the African-American National Anthem and Stevie Wonder's "Sir Duke." In May of 1990 they plan to attend Hammond's All-City Concert at Morton.

There are many levels in the Choir Department. Chorus is first year choir, glee club is considered second and third year choir, Concert Choir is considered for those who have a strong vocal ability.

Juanita Brown shows off her vocal talent by singing "Hush, I hear someone calling my name."

Mrs. Hunt expresses "I am a black woman," at the Black History Program.

Reporting The News

At Hammond High School, something is always going on. For example, there may be a sectional basketball game, there may be a dance planned, and one of our students or faculty may have won a prestigious award. Unfortunately, there are some people who may not be aware of some events. Fortunately, the Herald, our school newspaper, is published to keep the school informed.

Led by editor Julie Snow, business manager Tamla Williams, and advisor Mr. Robert Schneider, the Herald is staffed by 23 people who work hard to put out the school news.

Julie Snow had nothing but praise for this year's staff. According to her, there is basically good attendance during the Herald's fifth-hour class, and most of the staffers are really serious about what they do. Also, they are a bunch of talented writers with potential, of whom Julie Snow said, "They (the staffers) are very reliable. If someone isn't there to meet a deadline, someone else always takes over. They're really aggressive, too." She has also mentioned that operations are running smoothly, and that the current staff is the largest the school has had in the four years she has been at Hammond High. As for the future of the paper, she says, "Next year's newspaper should be better if the current staff sticks with it."

Also improving the newspaper this year is laying out the newspaper by computer. Until this year, all newspapers were laid out by hand. The Journalism and Herald Staff classes were combined into one. According to Mr. Schneider, one of the major improvements this year has been the larger staff.

Considering the past issues of Herald, its staff and improvements, the Herald should be an important part of our school for years to come.

Trying to beat the deadline, Editor-in-Chief Julie Snow discusses story ideas with page one reporters.

Producing The Best

This year's Dunes staff was one made up of unique personalities and hard working people. These two elements are needed to produce a great yearbook. With only 3 seniors and 12 juniors, 5 of which were returning staffers, the team set out to make an extraordinary book and accomplished their goal.

Senior Amy Wallskog was editor of the book. When asked how she liked being in charge of the book, she simply stated: "It was really hard, considering we had a practically brand new staff, but after a few weeks everyone got the hang of things and everything ran smoothly."

Junior Becky Schoop was business manager in charge of ads and selling books. Dan Trull and Rhonda Merrick were the photographers for the book.

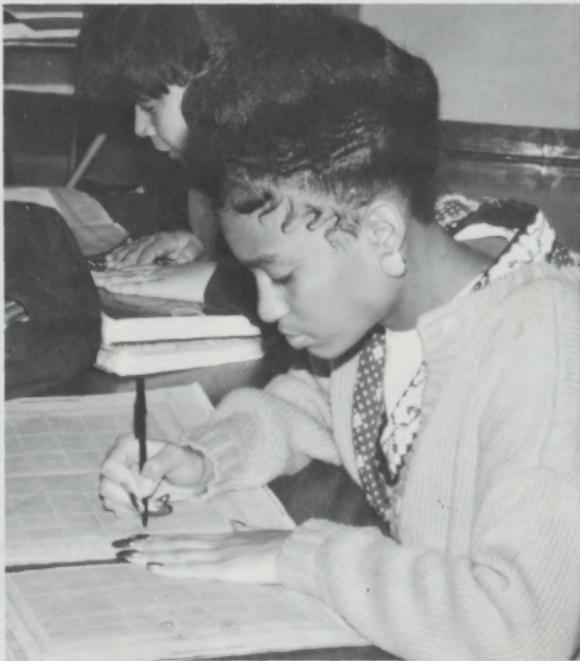

The group worked hard to meet deadlines and finish their layouts on time so they wouldn't have to spend time after school. In the end, all the hard work and dedication paid off.

Co-editors Amira Robinson and Amy Wallskog look over the layouts to make sure everything is in its place.

Senior Dana DeGayle Jackson and Junior Tiffany Carver copy their layouts over again after the fifth time.

Senior Cristina De Luna raises her hand to ask to use the washroom, while her partner, Junior Pennetta Williams, works diligently on her layout.

Battle For The Best

What eager pupils sometimes saw the sunrise and set? Right, the pupils who loaded on buses and vans to put forth their best effort in debating at different locations. Who were these pupils? Right once again! The members of the Speech and Debate Team.

There was much accomplished with this year's debate team — far too much to try listing everything. Therefore, only a portion will be mentioned: Debaters qualified for octa-finals at State Competition; Two sweepstakes trophies (overall number of team wins), were won at the Morton and Highland meet; Ribbons were won by: Joe Lentz, Sabrina Summers, Gwyn Hicks, Jeff Monberg, Gracie Garza, Mackey Austin, James Robinson, Steve Hartley, Steve Moore, Andre Farmer, Kirby VanVliet, Bill Bowen, Terry Deak, and Eric Howard.

In conclusion, with few of the many accomplishments performed by the Speech and Debate team, coached by Emanda Jones and Fred Monberg, they still continue to earn respect as one of the top teams in the regions.

Top row: S. Moore, J. Gibbons, T. Deak, E. Howard, J. Monberg, S. Hartley, M. Austin. Middle, standing: G. Garza, T. Vaughn, S. Summers, T. Hollway. Kneeling: J. Robinson, V. Mayans, G. Hicks, D. Mudd, M. Darrough. Bottom: J. Gore, J. Lentz, Mrs. Jones.

Getting The Job Done

What do you call a group of hard working students that do not get a lot of recognition? That's right, the Service Club.

This year's officers are Christa Bradley — president; Ginny Nellett — vice-president; Nalo Williams — secretary; India Morris — treasurer. The Service Club has worked very hard this year and has attained a lot of success. They have put on two blood drives, delivered Christmas stockings and Valentine flowers, given two tours throughout the school to parents, and worked football and basketball games. This year they also tried something new with the Mr. and Miss H.H.S. pageant.

Eric Hidalgo bravely volunteers blood for the good of mankind at a Service Club blood drive.

On The Job Training

HERO is short for Home Economics Related Occupations. Mrs. Thomas sponsors the group which started in 1981.

H.E.R.O. generally does 3 things: class instructing, on-the-job training and club activities.

Students cover topics such as safety and career planning while in the class room.

The on-the-job training is worked out through cooperating with a willing employer. The club activities were in F.H.A. (Future Homemakers of America). This organization looks to improve personal, family, and community living.

That isn't all HERO students do. They have held fund raisers to raise money for their banquets, which honors the employees, and their parents involved in HERO. Fund raisers this year included: selling taffy apples during the football season, candy canes during Christmas, and chocolate suckers for Valentines Day.

Lifting Spirits

The Hammond High Student Government has had yet another successful year. Under the leadership of Mr. Markovich, our Wildcat government has sponsored many in-school and out-of-school activities.

Homecoming Week was a huge success. The week began with a Kick-off dance, continued through spirit week with its respective dress-up days and wrapped up with the hayride, hall decorations, bonfire and parade. The week came to an exciting conclusion when the Homecoming Court was announced during half-time at the Homecoming game.

Student government's next major accomplishment was a formal held at the Raleigh in Lansing on December 21, 1989. With the theme, "Purple Reigns" and the colors purple and black, Winter Formal had an attendance of over 140 people.

Hammond High Student Government also sponsors Basketball Homecoming and the newly established Senior Dress-up Day.

Overall, spirits are up and student involvement is high, and these combined prove to be THE main ingredient in an efficient student government.

Vice-President Susie Winston, Secretary Reshunda Richardson, President Yolanda Weems.

Seniors Amy Wallskog, Jennifer Lytle and Matt Taylor get refreshments at Winter Formal.

Maid To Order

The few, the proud, the dedicated ... the Mat Maids. We're all aware of the greatness of Hammond High's wrestling team, but it takes that little extra momentum to keep our guys hyped. It's a job for the infamous Mat Maids.

In comparison, the mat maids are to the wrestling team what the cheerleaders are to the football team. It may not seem like a very difficult thing to do, but it is. The mat maids must know how to keep score, have a comfortable knowledge of the wrestling rules and techniques and be willing to be a dedicated member and loyal fan of the Wildcat wrestling team.

Reshunda Richardson, India Jones, Yolanda Weems, Amira Robinson.

Hard At Work

When you think of basketball, certain things come to mind: Amazing lay-ups, great steals and spectacular three-pointers. Most people don't realize the work that is involved for a successful season.

The coach and the team players aren't the only ones that work hard for HHS ... there's also the Stat Cats. These four ladies are responsible for recording the information for Coach Harwell. They took both the time and the effort to learn the rules of the game and can be found at every game, attentive and cheerful.

Scholars Awarded For Their Excellence

The National Honor Society held its annual induction ceremony on April 25, 1990. Thirty-one students were inducted.

The program began with an introduction from the senior class president Jean Casmir. As the candles were lit, senior members gave an explanation of the qualities that the new inductees should possess. Michael Sowards spoke of leadership, Melinda Lamp spoke of scholarship, Le-Iania Alamillo spoke of Service and Elisa Aguilar spoke of Character. After the induction awards, Ms. Grose recognized freshman, Ms. Warner the sophomores, and Mr. Brown the juniors and the Seniors for achieving honor roll and perfect attendance.

After the ceremony the Booster Club held a reception in the cafeteria for parents and students.

Wat's Up

Drew Summers takes a chance to remember what he is about to write, while in Mr. G's W.A.T. class.

The W.A.T. team is sponsored by Mr. Galosich and assisted by Mr. Ball. The W.A.T. team consists of students that volunteer to compete in three different categories. These categories include the Spell bowl, the Hoosier Academic bowl, and the Decathlon. The Hoosier academic bowl, and the Spell bowl are sponsored by the state government while the Decathlon is sponsored by the national government.

The students meet after school to study for their competitions and often have retreats at Mr. Galosich's home.

This year they won first place in the spell bowl and came in third place in the Decathlon. Mr. "G" is really proud of his W.A.T. team and hopes they will be first place winners in all of the categories.

Mr. Galosich shows Christina Yonker and Eric Howard that even he can make an occasional mistake.

HAMMOND HIGH STUDENTS AGAINST DRIVING DRUNK

Glad to be Sadd

Hammond High's SADD was organized in February, 1988 because Tammy Spowart, the first president, saw a need to educate students to the problems caused by driving drunk or riding in a car with someone who has been drinking. Mrs. Jones, after talking to Tammy and other students, decided to sponsor the group.

The first year was spent more or less organizing, getting exposure and fund raising. Last year the group began bringing in speakers, broadening its library, marching in parades and spreading the word through posters, key chains, etc.

This year the group really got serious. They've not only had speakers in, but also visited an alcohol abuse center in Plymouth, Indiana, put together a booklet for adults on teenagers and alcoholism, and sponsored a lock-in.

Each year the group has sponsored a big fund raiser to get money for its needs. The first year was a dance, the second year a lip sync contest and this year sold items through a company.

The group's sponsor, Mrs. Jones, has also been working with parents who have teenagers with alcohol-related problems.

Special Events

Regina Brooks, played by Amy Wallskog, is ready to shoot Teddy Burnett, played by Robert Lanter, at this year's school play.

What are special events? Special events are school related activities which are considered "the most memorable times of one's life." Such events include winter formal, school plays, National Honor Society Inductions, prom and graduation.

Without special events, for most, there wouldn't be much of anything to look forward to during the school year.

Purple Reigns

As in years past, the Student Government put on the Winter Formal. It was held on December 21, 1989, the coldest night of the year. Seventy couples attended the event at the Raliegh in Lynwood, Illinois. The theme "Purple Reigns" was very appropriate because the banquet room was filled with purple and black balloons on each person's chair, compliments of Laurie Wozniak. The students were dressed accordingly, making the evening a very elegant night despite the bone chilling 45 degree below zero wind chill. Everyone enjoyed the dance and the music, provided by Hot Tunz D.J. A great time was had by all.

Kristyn Ball and Curtis Beck dance the night away.

Michelle Lakatos gives Anthony Andrews a funny face as he asks her to dance.

Return of the Drama Club

The return of the Drama Club to Hammond High has proven a success. Headed by Miss J. P. Teal, the club made its debut at the Chili Supper last November, when it put on a fifteen minute skit entitled "Don't Just Be a File Clerk." Drama Club members involved in this short production were senior Chris Sheldon, juniors Lauren Vega and Carri Lentz, and sophomore Steve Perez.

The true accomplishment of the Drama Club, by far, was the spring play, "Phantom of the Soap Opera." Drama club members chose this play because it was a contemporary one-scene play that provided an ample number of roles, and well... because they liked it.

Amy Wallskog captured the lead role as Regina Brooks, star of the daytime drama "As the Heart Burns." Chris Sheldon played Sam, the sandwich vendor, and also the Phantom, who kills off the cast one by one. The part of Addison, the director of "As the Heart Burns," was played by Sam Enriquez and Jennifer Bloom had the audience rolling with laughter with her character, Daphne Davis. Damien Hanson carried the role of Digby Wright, the somewhat sloppy police officer who solves the mystery of the Phantom.

It has been three years since Hammond High has had a drama club and put on a production. With the arrival of Miss Teal to Hammond High this year, the Drama Club was revived. Miss Teal, who participated in drama while in high school and college, was offered the job of director. She accepted because she enjoys drama and feels Hammond High needs a drama club. The play had a nice turnout for its first production. "It was a pleasant surprise," commented Ms. Teal.

Daphne Davis (Jen Bloom) leads in a debate about love, marriage and money.

Chris Sheldon and Steve Perez show their expertise in acting at the Chili Supper.

Cast members of "As the Heart Burns" discuss the murder of one of their co-workers.

The Phantom (Chris Sheldon) puts "real bullets" in the gun.

"As the Heart Burns" producer (Kim Gordon) instructs the Director (Sam Enriquez) to get his show out "on time."

The band performs one of their pieces during the ceremony.

Armando Vela, Amy Wallskog, Laurie Wozniak, and Ingrid Huskison walk to their seats as the ceremony begins.

Richard Howard marches down the stairs after receiving a carnation from Navin Kamal for being a member of the National Honor Society.

Students belonging to the H.H.S. choir sing songs in honor of the seniors.

Seniors Leave Their Mark

This year, as in the past years, students from the Senior class of 1990 were recognized for their special achievements made during their 4 years here at H.H.S. The ceremony took place on May 23, 1990. It began with a presentation given by Mr.

White. The ceremony ended by the passing of the Temulac from the senior class president Jean Casmir, to the junior class president, Navin Kamal. It proved to be successful and memorable to the many seniors.

Seniors share a laugh just before their group picture is taken.

Wildcats Encounter Paradise

A Night In Paradise truly described the Junior/Senior Prom of 1990, which was held at the Sherrwood South Country Club in Sherrillville.

The evening was filled with dining, dancing, and flash bulbs. Prom goers truly saw stars as cameras snapped hundreds of photos to remind them of their "Night in Paradise."

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Queen, Susan Stanek, and the King, Jonathon Barkey. They received crowns and stuffed teddy bears to commemorate the honor bestowed upon them.

Nightlife, the name of the DJ, played until the last couple bopped until they dropped to the tune of "Shout."

"Prom was a huge success," stated junior Traci Reczek.

Junior Eric Stover makes sure that his prom date, senior Jennifer Lytle, is within reach for the next slow dance.

Having a great time at prom is the only thing on the minds of these friends, who can't wait to dance the night away.

Seniors Susan Stanek and Jonathon Barkey truly look like royalty after being crowned queen and king at prom.

Seniors Mike Gramhoffer and Kristyn Ball are happy to be sharing one of their last memories of Hammond High together at their senior prom.

The Tassels Have Been Turned

Perhaps the longest five minutes of one's high school career will be the time spent standing outside of H.H.S., anxiously awaiting to march to the music of "Pomp and Circumstance." After four years of hard work and dedication, the class of 1990 finally made their "final" appearance on the tenth of June.

Before receiving their diplomas, the classmates listened to three speeches. The first was given by co-salutatorian Eakta Kamal. Eakta spoke of her hard times and struggles at

H.H.S. and said not to let anything stand in one's way. Co-salutatorian Drew Summers warned the class not to take time for granted because before one knows it, it's gone. The third and final speech was given by Valedictorian Jean Casmir. Jean reflected on old times, such as when she and some friends jumped the football fence one evening at the great risk of being caught. She also stated how, during the last few weeks of school, she was excitedly counting down the days until graduation. Suddenly, she realized what she had been doing. She reminded us how safe and secure our world had been during high school. Now, all of that was going to change.

After Jean completed her speech, Mr. White then told the class to assemble for graduation. As the names were read, students walked across the stage and received their diplomas.

The ceremony was complete when the magic words were said: "You may now turn your tassels to the right."

Valedictorian Jean Casmir smiles while speaking about how many times Mr. Kucer said "Ayte" instead of all right.
